

Additional Resources

Want more? The CruDoctrine additional resource page is an ever growing resource for you to continually refer back to in order to dig deeper. There are two ways that we want to resource you.

First, you'll notice downloadable pdf's for small group bible studies or discipleship appointments. These are designed to be either be used alongside CruDoctrine as a discussion tool for students who worked through the module already or as an independent bible study. They are meant to take the module's topic and study it from one or a few passages.

Second, we will continually be adding additional content that will take each module a bit further. So, as we come across blogs, videos, and articles, we will be dumping those resources in here for you to continue to grow and for you to use to minister to those in your world.

Enjoy.
